Subject: Conflict Free Supply Chain Due Diligence

Dear Valued Customer,

In 2012, the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) published the regulations implementing the conflict minerals reporting obligations of Section 1502 of the US Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform Act. HITEC Sensor Solutions, Inc. is executing processes to meet the requirements of these regulations.

HITEC Sensor Developments, Inc. is committed to sourcing responsibly and considers any mining activities that support conflict as unacceptable. To further this commitment, we will continue working with our supply chain conducting reasonable country of origin inquiries to ensure only conflict free materials are used.

HITEC Sensor Developments, Inc. does not purchase tin, tantalum, tungsten, or gold, which may be necessary for many of our products and services, directly from smelters or mines. Further, there are many supply chain layers that separate us from smelters and mines from which these metals are sourced.

Consequently, we require our suppliers to determine the sources and conflict status of the products supplied to HITEC Sensor Developments, Inc. within their products.

Based on the written assurances HITEC Sensor Developments, Inc. has received from major suppliers to date, we have no indication that HITEC Sensor Developments, Inc.'s products contain any minerals from conflict mines or smelters from covered countries.

Please be assured we are focused on providing our customers with a HITEC Sensor Developments, Inc. conflict mineral declaration and aligning our supply chain with the framework of the Electronic Industry Citizenship Coalition® (EICC)® and the Global e-Sustainability Initiative (GeSI). The EICC's and GeSI's work includes the Conflict Free Smelter Program and the Conflict Minerals Reporting Template.

We fully understand the importance of this issue and we will continue gathering information from our supply chain in order to proudly declare a HITEC Sensor Developments, Inc. conflict free supply chain.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
